

Health and Safety Policy

Novalca Srl considers workplace health and safety as fundamental values and is committed to ensuring the protection of workers' integrity and dignity. Every new or existing activity is planned with a strong focus on safety, implementing effective measures to prevent accidents and occupational diseases.

All employees are properly trained, informed, and made aware of safe working practices and their responsibilities regarding occupational health and safety (OHS). OHS management involves the entire company structure, from executives to employees, ensuring that equipment, workplaces, and operational processes meet high safety and protection standards.

Novalca Srl ensures the dissemination of risk-related information, regularly updating employee training. We prioritize prevention, swift emergency response, and cooperation with regulatory authorities. All activities comply with applicable laws, while continuous improvement in safety remains a core objective.

Our company operates responsibly, adopting practices that prevent accidents, protect employees, and maintain a safe and healthy work environment that aligns with the highest industry standards.
